ZOO'S GUIDE TO ALL YOU NEED TO KNOW, WATCH, BUY & LAUGH AT THIS WEEK!

LUISA'S GOBSMACKING GETAWAY!

Luisa Zissman's sun-drenched vacation in Dubai is the party all men wish they were invited too!

We like to think any girlie holiday is crammed full of tiny bikinis, drunken high-jinx, frolics in the sea and (hopefully) some behind closed doors naked pillow fights.

At least, that's what we hope the order of business was for ex-Apprentice finalist Luisa Zissman, who jetted off to Dubai with her cracking companions for a seriously sunny – and sexy – hen do, last week.

Unfortunately for just about every man in the world, we can't bring you any snaps of Luisa throwing pillows →

PICS: Fame Flynet

Lovely Luisa
suns herself!

around in her undergarments. Tragic, we know. But luckily, we do have loads of steamy shots of Luisa and co in their skimpy swimsuits, and judging by the photos, the girls had plenty of fun.

We even spotted Luisa's Apprentice buddy Dr Leah Totton tagging along for the ride in her Instagram snaps. Which shouldn't come as much of a surprise, as Leah is 100 per cent Luisa's type: "I don't have a certain kind of man, but I'm a lot fussier with women. They have to be blonde, skinny and have massive boobs!"

Who knows: maybe some of Luisa's trademark sex party antics rubbed off on the fair-haired friends who joined her in Dubai?

Well, we can always dream, can't we...

"I'M FUSSIER WITH WOMEN THAN MEN!"

UPFRONT

DWAYNE THE ROCK JOHNSON

EXCLUSIVE!

“I WANTED TO BE
JONES!”

The hardest man in Hollywood tells ZOO about surviving hurricanes, rappelling out of helicopters and his new world record for, er, selfies...

HI, DWAYNE! WE SEE YOU'VE GOT A NEW MOVIE OUT CALLED SAN ANDREAS. WE'RE GUESSING IT'S GOT NOTHING TO DO WITH GRAND THEFT AUTO?

It's a big disaster spectacle, but told from the point of view of one man trying to save his family. It's the human element that always moves me, but at the same time it's a huge, gripping, relentless experience.

YOU WERE BORN IN EARTHQUAKE COUNTRY IN HAYWARD, CALIFORNIA. WHAT'S IT LIKE WHEN A QUAKE HITS?

It grabs you by the throat and doesn't let go! There's no warning and the shifting tectonic plates can trigger aftershocks, or even additional quakes. You just try to get through it, minute-by-minute, and that's what makes San Andreas such a heart-pounding experience. It just keeps coming at you!

SO, HAVE YOU EVER BEEN CLOSE TO A REAL-LIFE FORCE OF NATURE?

I was once stuck in a Category Five hurricane (the worst of the lot, with wind speeds greater than 157mph) when Hurricane Andrew hit Miami back in 1992. It almost wiped out the city and lives were lost. It was frightening, very scary, and some members of my family were lucky to survive. That's Mother Nature's wrath – she's tough.

AS ONE OF THE TOUGHEST WWE WRESTLERS EVER, DO YOU INSIST ON DOING ALL YOUR OWN STUNTS?

There's nothing with wings or wheels that I don't operate: I've even piloted a boat! San Andreas was very different from other movies though, because it was absolutely relentless. I have a great stunt double, but I want to do everything. I guess I'm just crazy.

TALK US THROUGH THE CRAZIEST STUNT YOU'VE EVER BEEN INVOLVED IN?

It would have to be one from my new film. The earthquake causes a giant tsunami to crash into the San Francisco bay, and we used 12,000 tons of steel to build a water tank the size of a soccer field! We had buildings, built to scale, and submerged in the tank to make the action look as real as possible.

WHAT WAS YOUR SCARIEST MOMENT DURING FILMING?

Well, I had to rappel out of a helicopter that's 150-feet off the ground for a scene where I'm rescuing a little girl. She's in a car hanging off the edge of a cliff-face that was suspended another 50-feet off the ground!

DID YOU EVER IMAGINE YOU WOULD GROW UP TO BE AN ICONIC MOVIE HERO?

When I was eight years old, I saw Raiders Of The Lost Ark and I thought, "I wanna be that guy!" Indiana Jones is charming, cool, he kicks ass and the ladies love him!

WE CAN'T HELP BUT NOTICE YOU HAVE A LOT OF TATTOOS...

Tattoos are a big thing with me. Mine are cultural, symbolic and date back centuries. They become very powerful if you believe in what we, in the Polynesian islands, call "mana", meaning spirit. So many men and women around the world get parts of my tattoo done and show me. It's awesome.

"EARTHQUAKES DON'T LET YOU GO!"

WE ALL KNOW YOU'RE A BIG ACTION HERO, BUT WE HEARD YOU'RE SET TO STAR WITH KEVIN HART IN A NEW COMEDY. GIVE US THE LOWDOWN...

It's an action comedy called Central Intelligence. Kevin plays a boring accountant who was once the cool guy in high school, and I play an old school friend he reconnects with on Facebook. But I'm a rogue spy and drag him into a world of intrigue.

WHAT'S THE STORY WITH FAST & FURIOUS 8? WILL HOBBS BE MAKING A RETURN?

Of course – it can't go on without Hobbs!

DO YOU THINK THEY WILL EVER GIVE HOBBS HIS OWN SPIN-OFF MOVIE?

We are all interested in it and I just had a big conversation with the studio. We'll see...

HAVE YOU ENJOYED YOUR TIME IN BLIGHTY?

It's been great! I've even managed to get into the Guinness Book Of World Records at the San Andreas premiere in Leicester Square, where I did 105 red carpet selfies with the fans in three minutes. Beat that!

"I do my own stunts. I have a stunt double, but I guess I'm just crazy"

SAN ANDREAS IS OUT NOW

EXCLUSIVE!

Harry hots up the house!

Think Big Brother's naughty new housemate Harry Amelia looks familiar? Maybe it's because she's a star of our incredibly rude #ZOOTwitties!

You know something's wrong with Big Brother when the Eurovision Song Contest is a more appealing TV option. Thankfully help is at hand, because BB bosses have lived up proceedings by parachuting in none other than one of ZOO's rudest #ZOOTwitties around: Harry Amelia.

The 22-year-old Loughborough lovely was a surprise addition to the house last Friday, and we fully expect the delicious part-time dominatrix to bring some much-needed naughtiness to our evening viewing.

Don't bother Googling her though. This 34DD delight frequently finds her Facebook and Twitter accounts suspended due to posting so much naked goodness, so that's why we did the honourable thing and grabbed these tantalising topless pictures as soon as we heard the news.

The brown-eyed babe has also reached out to your favourite magazine telling us, "If the ZOO readers vote to keep me in the house, I'll do a special shoot when I get out!"

We don't know about you, but ZOO will definitely pick up the phone and dial her number...

Drop for drop, bee toxin is more deadly than rattlesnake venom

EVERYTHING TASTES OF HONEY!

W.T.F.!

The maddest thing we've seen this week!

Born to BEE wild!

This ageing beekeeper's world record attempt has been creating quite a buzz online. It's easy to see why...

Mondays are always painful and usually you're trudging back to work after a weekend of excessive drinking. But spare a thought for this chap in China, who spent his start to the week breaking a world record by covering himself head to toe in 109kg of bees.

Gao Bingguo, a 55-year-old beekeeper from Tai'an City, first attached dozens of queen bees to his person, then smashed the previous record – 83.5kg – when his colleagues poured the little buzzers over him.

Apparently, there were 1.1 million bees on his person at the stunt's peak and, despite the amazing success, it's reported Gao was stung 2,000 times.

He should have known there'd be a painful sting in the tale...

Gao before the stunt!

HAYEMAKER

David Hays is pulling no punches – only in ZOO

History maker

New IBF super middleweight champion James DeGale made history with a fantastic display against Andre Dirrell. He really bossed the fight from the start with those two knockdowns in the second round, and got the job done even after taking his foot off the pedal and letting Dirrell back into the fight through the middle rounds.

He follows in the footsteps of Nigel Benn and Lloyd Honeyghan, who went to America and beat the home fighter to bring the world title back to the UK. He is also the first British fighter to win an Olympic Gold medal and a world title, so that's his spot in the annals of boxing reserved forever.

A rematch between him and George Groves looks a mega fight now, especially if George can win the title in his next fight. You've got the prospect of a unification bout between two British fighters with bad blood, so another 80,000 Wembley sell-out could be on the cards.

They can both bang and are vulnerable at times. It will be mouth-watering.

EMAIL YOUR QUESTIONS FOR DAVID TO HAYEMAKER@ZOOTODAY.COM

IN NEED OF A HAYEMAKER THIS WEEK... STUPID SHOPLIFTERS

A thief was busted stealing from a supermarket because he was doing it in a Manchester United shirt – with his own name on the back.

This fella probably wishes he'd got "Rooney" on there now. He's clearly not the smartest tool in the shed, and he should be put away just for stupidity.

50 no cents

So, 50 Cent's boxing promotion company SMS Promotions has filed for bankruptcy. He had some very talented fighters on his roster like Billy Dib, Yuriorkis Gamboa, James Kirkland and even Andre Dirrell at one stage, but none of these guys are overly marketable.

In boxing, it's not always the best fighters who sell the most seats. 50 Cent still plans to come back to the business, so this is a lesson for him.

Britain's hot talent

I'm all for Bianca Gascoigne's Britain's Got Talent-type search for strippers. If she needs a judge, I'll happily offer my professional opinion on the contestants' technical merits!

BGT could probably do with more strippers on there, as it's getting a bit tired now. Blokes making tunes with their armpits can quite easily be exchanged for a bunch of exotic dancers. I'm sure they'll go down well with Her Majesty at the Royal Variety Performance.

ASK DAVID!

Who wins out of Carl Froch and Joe Calzaghe in their prime?

MIKE GARLAND, HERTS

It's hard to say about two fighters from different eras, especially a fight like this. Both have cast-iron chins and have been dropped on occasion, but always got up to win.

They also share victories over a few of the same fighters, most notably Mikkell Kessler, although Carl lost to him.

As they're both pals of mine, I'll happily sit on the fence!

World Cup of fraud

What turmoil over at FIFA. They've dodged allegations of corruption for ages, so it's good to actually see officials finally being hauled to court to answer some of these accusations.

That place seems to be run like an old boys' club and that's the problem with these big powerful organisations: people can quite easily abuse their power for financial gain.

They probably thought they had the best gig in the world, but that won't be the case if they're found guilty and get locked up.

SUPER LIGHTWEIGHT

The BMW 3.0 CSL Hommage concept might be light on its feet but it packs a mean punch

The original BMW 3.0 CSL was one of the most iconic cars of the 1970s, earning the nickname “Batmobile” thanks to its ludicrous rear wing and finger-slicing sharp styling. Now, BMW has released a modern version of its lightweight weapon at the swanky Concorso d'Eleganza Villa d'Este and it's an absolute brute.

Power comes from a 3.0-litre straight-six engine with newfangled “e-boost” technology. The German marque has remained tight-lipped about what this actually means, but suffice to say it will likely involve turbos and bum-bursting power. The new 3.0 CSL looks savage too, with an extensive use of super-lightweight carbonfibre making up the extremely muscular, ultra-aerodynamic exterior.

Inside, the cockpit has been completely stripped back in homage to the racers of the '70s, while neat tech touches – such as a digital display on the steering column and Batman-inspired steering wheel – give it a futuristic finish. And then there's that famous rear wing, which extends past the rear flanks of the car and now neatly houses a strip of cutting-edge LED laser lighting.

There is no word on a release date just yet, but it could herald the arrival of a super-feisty M4 model somewhere down the line.

Batman-inspired styling!

MORE Motoring News

Rapid Golf R400 spied

A molten hot 400PS (395bhp) Golf R has been spied while it was out on a test drive, confirming rumours that a bat-sh*t crazy VW hatch is on the horizon. With 4Motion four-wheel-drive and that much power, expect the 0-62mph dash to be spanked in a supercar-shaming 3.9 seconds.

Renault unveils Kwid crossover

The Kwid concept looked promising, but the final production-ready version isn't much to get excited about. It's a tiny SUV geared towards emerging markets, so expect a tiny price tag to boot. No firm plans for a European model yet. Probably for the best.

Evora 400 is Lotus' fastest

The mid-mounted 3.5-litre supercharged V6 in the Evora 400 develops a staggering, er, 400bhp, meaning it can reach 60mph from a standstill in just 4.1 seconds. It's the fastest Lotus around its test track and also one of the most expensive – at a whopping £72k!

of the week!

Spy

We wouldn't blame you for quickly dismissing the idea of a spy comedy starring Jude Law, Jason Statham, Melissa McCarthy and Miranda Hart. But what if we told you it's one of the funniest films to grace the big screen in months? Now we've got your attention...

When Bradley Fine (Jude Law, having a go at being Bond) is swiftly killed by a seductive villain (Rose Byrne) on a CIA mission, it's down to his usually desk-bound second in command Susan (McCarthy) to take the reigns and go off on her own espionage adventure, and avenge the death of her partner. Cue hilarious new identities, cracking one-liners and epic kills.

We're not sure whether it's Jason Statham's ability to mock himself so entertainingly, or Miranda Hart and 50 Cent's awkward kiss that made it so good. But you have to witness the craziness in all its cinematised glory. ★★★★★

American Sniper

If there's a man you'd want on your side in a war-torn country, it's Chris Kyle. With the most kills in American military history (around 255), he took down threats to the US and protected his comrades with pinpoint accuracy.

This Clint Eastwood-directed blockbuster is the story of Kyle's life, with Bradley Cooper playing the valiant marksman and Sienna Miller his loyal wife. If humbling displays of patriotism are your thing, buy this. ★★★★★

Jamie xx In Colour

If you like bass so pumping the house three doors down feels the judders, In Colour will suit you down to the ground, as Jamie xx (better known for his role in The XX) carves a name for himself as a solo artist.

Gosh sets the tone, with minimal vocals and an underground sound, but the track you'll love most is Obvs, featuring a mental mix of steel drumming atop hardcore beats.

If you want to look cool in front of your mates, put this on at your next BBQ. ★★★★★

EVENTS

Main man Adam has burned the BBQ – and landed in his girlfriend's bad books.

A slimy ghoul tries to get up close and personal. No, it's not Piers Morgan...

Adam gets on an aeroplane and falls asleep. This is thrilling.

An eight-legged beast makes an uninvited visit. Again, not Piers...

Adam makes a fine snack for a monster that eats him in his sleep. The end.

THIS WEEK Digging Up The Marrow

of the week!

San Andreas

Should you frequent Channel 5's bank holiday schedule, you'll be familiar with The Towering Inferno and Earthquake – films where “mild peril” is cast aside for gory deaths of star names.

In this latest big-budget actioner, Dwayne “The Rock” Johnson gives these classic disaster films a huge nod, as his helicopter rescue pilot embarks on a frantic mission to save his daughter (Alexandra Daddario – yes, that topless hottie from True Detective) from imminent death in San Francisco – and win back his estranged wife (Carla Gugino) after The Big One hits.

With huge action set pieces, more modes of transport than a Premier League footballer and one moment of classic Rock it doesn't matter it's so cheesy, fromage clogs your veins.

If you can keep your tongue firmly in your cheek, it's ground shaking fun. ★★☆☆☆

The Hot List

Kajaki

In the heart of the Afghan desert, a valiant troop of British and Irish squaddies prepare for a long stint away from their loved ones. With their camp set up, they venture out into the isolated depths of the enemy land. But when they get to the desired location, what awaits them is truly devastating. Harrowing and humbling, this heroic true story will stay with you for days. ★★★★★

DVD!

Kingsman

Gary Unwin (Taron Egerton) is a wayward youngster, destined for a life of crime. However, when it's revealed his dad was a member of Kingsman – a very cool spy organisation, run by Michael Caine – a door is opened by Colin Firth to apply. With big names, big action and a cracking debut from Egerton, if Tarantino did Bond, it would look something like this. ★★★★★

DVD!

Splatoon

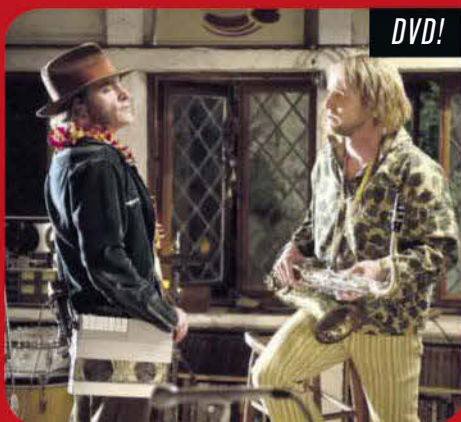

Nintendo has tried and failed many times to bring a big name shoot-'em-up to its consoles. But in recent years, even the likes of Call of Duty have struggled for success. That issue has now been resolved, thanks largely to this addictive family friendly shooter – to CoD what Mario Kart is to racing. We expect it to have almost as big a following soon. ★★★★★

Inherent Vice

Joaquin Phoenix dons a hippie shirt as an LA private eye figuring out an ex's mysterious disappearance. Followed every step of the way by Josh Brolin's police detective and Reese Witherspoon's attorney, he's soon caught in a web of kidnap, murder and heroin smuggling. Dotted with bizarre cameos, it feels over-stretched and rarely intriguing. ★★★☆☆

Lucy Collett Presents

BUSTY BABES

ZOO's favourite raunchy redhead rolls in to present a bra-busting 16-page boob bonanza!

If her trademark fire-red hair isn't enough to mesmerize you, Lucy Collett's voluptuous curves and bare bosoms will soon reel you in.

As somewhat of an expert on all things big-breasted, Lucy took time out of her busy schedule to talk us through her recent holiday with the Page 3 girls, and we soon came to the conclusion there was no one better to front our line-up of Britain's finest busty babes. Over to you, Lucy...

HELLO, LUCY! HOW COOL IS IT BEING A MODEL?

It's pretty damn cool! It's hard work, don't get me wrong. For example, in this shoot I held loads of squats while posing for the camera – and now my thighs really hurt! But there's not much else cooler than modelling. Well, apart from being an astronaut? I should combine the two: "Boobs In Space"! IT'D BE OUT OF THIS WORLD! YOU'VE NOT SPENT MUCH TIME IN THE COUNTRY RECENTLY... No, I've been gallivanting around the world! I've been → to Thailand for a while and then as soon as I got back, I jetted off to Portugal with my fellow Page 3 babes!

SOUNDS GREAT. WHAT TALES OF DEBAUCHERY HAVE YOU GOT FOR US?

Thailand was full of booze, strippers and go-go bars. In Phuket, I ended up with strippers necking shots off my boobs. Then, I joined in and started doing shots off them!

Portugal was less raucous: we just got really p*ssed drinking Jagermeister and ended up singing along to the Spice Girls!

SO, YOU'RE NOT TOTALLY WILD ON NIGHTS OUT?

Not to start with, no. Some of the girls are shy, but when we go out they're bound to find a pole and be like, “Hello!” Get a bit of booze down our necks and we turn into animals!

NO WONDER PEOPLE LOVE YOUR SNAPCHATS...

I'm always having fun with my Snapchat stories. I took loads of videos of me and the Page 3 girls in Portugal and had hundreds of people tweeting me saying, “I wish I was Lucy right now” – simply because I was surrounded by all those lovely models.

SINCE YOU SPEND SO MUCH TIME ON HOLIDAY, DO YOU HAVE MANY FOREIGN FANS?

I probably get noticed more abroad than I do in the UK. I was out in Indonesia and apparently I've got loads of fans over there I didn't know about. People were asking to meet me, so I tweeted where I was and loads of people turned up. I'm also big in Peru: there's Paddington Bear and me! ➡

WHAT DO YOU MISS MOST ABOUT THE UK WHEN YOU'RE AWAY?

My PlayStation 4! I still haven't really been home to play on it yet, so I think I'll be skipping my summer holiday to be huddled up at home. Even if it's sunny outside, I'll just be on my PlayStation!

ARE YOU WORRIED YOU MIGHT SCARE OFF BLOKES BY OUT-GAMING THEM?

I've had guys over for dates and they're always quite shocked by the PS4 in my lounge, but we always end up playing on it.

I like playing strip Injustice League: whoever loses has to take off an item of clothing!

HAVE YOU EVER USED YOUR BOOBS AS A CRAFTY DISTRACTION WHILE GAMING?

All the time! If I'm ever losing at Strip Injustice, all I have to do is stand up in my underwear with my boobs on full display and then guys can't take their eyes off of me. Then, I beat them!

WHO IS YOUR FAVOURITE BUSTY BABE?

I love Kelly Hall: she's one of my bezzie mates and a little pocket rocket. I've got loads of videos of us snogging on my phone from when we go out together... ➡

GIRLS WOULD MAKE YOUR ULTIMATE BOOBY SHOOT?

It's really hard to choose as they're all really lovely. I'd go for myself, Mellisa Clarke, Jessica Davies and Joey Fisher!

Imagine if it was superhero-themed? We'd all be bursting out of Catwoman costumes!

WHAT WOULD BE YOUR SUPERPOWER OF CHOICE?

I'd love to be able to fly. How nice would it be to just jump up and go? But then again, how cool would it be to be invisible? I'd be able to sneak in to all of ZOO's girl shoots for a perv!

WHO IS THE PERFECT BUSTY BABE?

Scarlett Johansson! She looks incredible in that tight suit she wears as Black Widow in The Avengers. There's nothing better than seeing a girl in tight leather. I'd definitely get her into my team of heroines – The Avengerboobs!

THE WORLD'S DEADLIEST SNIPER

ZOO meets sergeant Craig Harrison, the man responsible for the longest-ever sniper kill...

After spending almost his entire working life serving in Bosnia, Kosovo, Iraq and Afghanistan, sergeant Craig Harrison – of Her Majesty's Household Cavalry – saw his world flipped upside down when he claimed the longest-ever sniper kill. This is his story...

HELLO, CRAIG. IS BEING A SNIPER THE TOUGHEST ROLE IN THE MILITARY?

I wouldn't say that, but it's one of the most vital positions. If you have a sniper at your disposal, you can hold up an entire Army with your precision shooting. You're the one taking out key personnel and signalmen, and you're there to cause panic by taking out the guy sitting eating his food: that causes mayhem. A sniper can cause a hell of a lot of damage!

HOW PERSONAL IS A SNIPER'S KILL?

You're looking through a high-powered scope that can magnify a target by up to 50 times. It's like looking at someone from across a table – but I'm sitting in a hide 600 metres away. I know the colour of their hair, their eyes and what they've been doing for the last few hours of their life. As a sniper, we're there to gather as much information as possible before we get the call to pull the trigger.

DID YOU EVER FIND YOURSELF IN ANY PARTICULARLY STICKY SITUATIONS?

We were stationed in an outpost in Iraq. It was

SGT HARRISON IN COMBAT!

"I KILLED
A TALIBAN
LEADER
FROM 2,500
METRES"

THE TARGETS!

basically 10 minutes walk from our main base at Basra Palace, but it would take us two-and-a-half hours to drive as the insurgents were smashing us from every angle. At night, the gates of hell would open, and bullets rained down on us. I was sniping from a multi-storey building as they fired RPGs at our oil tankers just below. Luckily for us, they failed to arm the grenades properly, so they didn't detonate.

AS A SNIPER, HOW DID YOU EVER TURN THE TIDE OF WAR?

Most probably on the day of my longest kill. I'd led my men into what turned out to be a killing zone. It was a complete stalemate! The Taliban had a scout marshalling their troops, who we could hear on the radio. They flooded the field we were crossing leaving us stranded, so I managed to ward off the scout with nine missed shots. But then the nomads cleared off, leaving their tents and their fires. I thought I had been spotted and was expecting to be flanked, so I had to think quickly.

TELL US HOW YOU MANAGED TO PULL OFF YOUR LONGEST KILL.

Expecting an incoming attack any minute, my intelligence suggested there was a plot to kidnap and murder me because one of the Taliban I'd killed was a leader. I had to go into hiding for almost two years under police protection.

DOES THE THREAT STILL WORRY YOU?

Not as much now, but in the Army we are always taught about the "what if" factor. The police are still aware of the situation and that helps make it more comfortable. But we still have to watch what we do. One minute you could be opening a door and the next minute, you're gone.

HAVE YOU GOT ANY BATTLE SCARS?

A few. I went into a firefight where my wagon was shot around 136 times. I was hit in the helmet and the round went right through the top and luckily missed my head. It left me knocked out for 20 seconds and when I came round, I was hit

"I had two bullets in the air, three seconds apart"

spotter and I frantically scanned the landscape, looking for hostiles. I came across two Taliban soldiers taking up position on a belt-fed machine gun. I knew my calculations from my last shots and proceeded to fire. My first shot missed, so I readjusted my sights and fired again. This time, it was a hit! I then fired on the second target, quickly bolted the gun and fired again. I had two bullets in the air about three seconds apart. The first missed, but the second hit. I had picked them off from almost 2,500 metres out.

AND THIS MADE YOU A DIRECT TARGET FOR AL-QAEDA...

My story was leaked to the press and the lads and me were interviewed after our medal parade. They took a particular interest in my world record shots and as the story came out in the papers, I was told to enjoy the limelight. Then the next day I received another call saying through my body armour. That bullet exited out of my side.

My driver at the time saved me, because I would have fallen out of the door if he hadn't dragged me back in. I spent a day in a field ambulance as we were so far forward, suffering from concussion, whiplash and vomiting. I had to tell the doctor I was fine as I wanted to get back to the lads in the fight.

WHAT WAS YOUR WORST EXPERIENCE?

I spent our time in Kosovo digging up mass graves. We were completely helpless. As we patrolled at the border near Pristina, the Serbs were shooting at us all the time but we weren't allowed to shoot back. We got absolutely smashed in Kosovo.

this means a lot!”

HI, HARRY. THIS IS YOUR SECOND ZOO AWARD IN TWO YEARS. WHAT'S NEXT: BRITAIN'S COOLEST MAN 2016?

Ha ha. A big thank you to the ZOO readers for the award, it means a lot. What's next? Hopefully more of the same – and better. I'll keep working hard to progress and will be looking to score plenty of goals again.

TWENTY-ONE GOALS IN YOUR FIRST FULL SEASON: IS THE PREMIER LEAGUE A DODDLE?

Definitely not! It's probably the best league in the world, and every game is a challenge. I'm just concentrating on improving my game.

WHICH PERFORMANCE WERE YOU MOST PROUD OF THIS SEASON?

I think it has to be the win against Chelsea at White Hart Lane. To come up against one of the best defences in the league, score two, make two and win the match 5-3 is something I'm very proud of. It was an absolutely incredible game!

“This is up there with the LMA award!”

HI, EDDIE! WILL THIS ZOO AWARD TAKE PRIDE OF PLACE OVER THE LMA GONG ON THE MANTELPIECE? It's right up there, of course! It's obviously very nice to win awards but the credit has to also go to both the players and the staff at the club. Everyone has worked incredibly hard to get to where we have, but we know the work is only just starting. I'm not one to look back to be honest and am always wondering how we can improve further and achieve more in the future. Winning the LMA Manager Of The Year award was a huge honour for me and very humbling. HOW DOES IT FEEL BEING LABELLED THE ENGLISH “SPECIAL ONE”? I don't pay much attention to that! My sole focus is on continuing to help improve the players and to make sure we're ready for the new season. WHAT IS YOUR PHILOSOPHY? I believe strongly in work ethic and being united as a team with everyone pulling together at the club, from top to bottom. It's vital everyone at Bournemouth is striving to go in the same direction. WHICH MANAGER ARE YOU MOST LOOKING FORWARD TO PITTING YOUR WITS AGAINST? All of them. I'm excited to test myself against the elite and with the Premier League being the best in the world, all of the managers will be top bosses who'll provide different challenges at different times.

HI, CHARLIE. TALK US THROUGH YOUR WONDER STRIKE...

I got to a point on the pitch where I thought the keeper would be off his line, and had a go. Luckily, it went in – and it was live on TV, so it got so much coverage!

HOW MANY TIMES DOES IT GO IN DURING TRAINING?

I only try it when I think it's on, but I've done a couple of goalies since I've been at Stoke. I scored one for Blackpool in a reserve game at Accrington Stanley and one for Rangers against Dundee, so this is the third time it's come off. Hopefully there are one or two others to come in my career.

LOOKING BACK NOW, WAS THE ROBOT A FITTING CELEBRATION?

Yes! But only because when I was on Soccer AM they asked me to do it, so I stuck to my promise. Luckily, it was for that goal against Chelsea where people managed to see the robot – though it'll never be seen again!

WHEN THE BALL LEFT YOUR FOOT, COULD YOU EVER IMAGINE IT WOULD BAG YOU A ZOO AWARD?

Ha ha. I'm delighted to receive the ZOO award. Hopefully, it makes up for me doing the robot!

UNSUNG HERO OF THE SEASON JOSE FONTE

For making Saints fans quickly forget about Dejan Lovren & co...

"It was a team effort!"

"I'm delighted to win this award, but it's a team effort. I've had a good season but only because my teammates have been so good. All that was said before, the predictions people made that we were going down, gave us more strength to prove everyone wrong, and that's what we did. The manager and his staff have done a great job and we managed to gel and achieve something very special."

CHAMPIONS
2014/15

“STALLIONS ARE MADE AT THE DERBY!”

Rising star Oisin Murphy tells ZOO about his journey from stable boy to frontrunner at the Derby, ahead of his second run-out in the biggest flat race of the year

FROM STABLE BOY...

...TO RACING STAR!

HI, OISIN! HOW EXCITED ARE YOU ABOUT THE DERBY THIS WEEKEND?

I can't wait! The Derby is the race everyone wants to win. It's a stallion-making event, and the winner always goes to stud afterwards. All the jockeys try a little bit harder on Derby day.

WHAT MAKES IT SO GREAT?

It's one of the most prestigious races in the world, on a track that's very difficult to ride. You're uphill for the first two furlongs, then it levels off and turns a bit before you run downhill for four furlongs. Round the famous Tattenham Corner, and there's a three-and-a-half furlong straight. It takes a very good horse to win.

“I rode winners and lost a lot of friends”

YOU WENT FROM WORKING AT THE DERBY AS A STABLE LAD IN 2013, TO FINISHING FIFTH LAST YEAR. THAT'S QUITE SOME RISE...

It all happened very quickly. I got my racing licence in June 2013 and had my first winner by 16 June. The ride on Red Galileo last year came completely out of the blue, but everyone tunes in for the Derby, so it got a lot of attention.

RED GALILEO WAS A 125-1 LONG SHOT. YOU MUST HAVE FELT UNSTOPPABLE WHEN YOU RODE INTO THE TOP FIVE AT EPSOM?

I got a huge buzz out of it, because he was outside of the field and favourite to come last! I just remember coming into the last furlong and seeing William Buick ahead of me on Western Hymn. It was great to finish in front of him.

HOW ARE YOU COPING WITH THE PRESSURE OF BEING TOUTED AS ONE OF THE HOTTEST YOUNG PROSPECTS IN RACING?

I don't think about the pressure too much. I do my homework, I know the form pretty well, and I just try to give the horse the best possible ride I can. Then they'll win if they're good enough, and they won't win if they're not.

AS A YOUNGER JOCKEY, ARE YOUR ELDERS WELCOMING IN THE WEIGHING ROOM?

No! You're kind of out on your own – at least, I was anyway. I got going very quickly and when you're riding lots of winners, I think you get branded as a little bit over-confident at times. I think there's a little bit of resentment there. You make and lose friends very quickly.

RIDING 84 WINNERS IN YOUR AMAZING FIRST YEAR WILL CERTAINLY ENSURE THERE'S SOME OF THAT ABOUT!

People think it comes down to natural talent but it's not: it's hard work! I had good support as an apprentice from trainer Andrew Balding and I spent a lot of time at the yard watching Jimmy Fortune, who was first choice jockey at the time. I would study what he was doing and try to learn all the pedigrees of the horses as well.

YOU WON YOUR FIRST CLASSIC ON KARPINO IN THE GERMAN 2,000

GUINEAS IN COLOGNE. IS THAT A GOOD OMEN?

To be honest, I had the best horse in the field. I had to do a little bit of work early on because I had a bad draw, but once I passed a few horses and got him settled, he just went away. I can't take all the credit!
